

I don't intend to get into the technical details here. My main concern is that you guys don't seem to be listening to the experts on this matter. You seem hell bent on pushing this through because it involves big money. Please reconsider BPL before you destroy radio communications for everyone.